

Advocate for Arizona's Health

Join the PAFCO Healthcare Reform Project

PAFCO in collaboration with St. Luke's Health Initiative, AZ Ecumenical Council and other partners wants to involve citizens and community leaders in creating solutions to the health care crisis through effective public policy civic engagement.

Our Goal: To train individuals to advocate for solutions to address the current health care crisis.

Almost everyone agrees, the health care system is a broken mess, with thousands uninsured, many more underinsured, growing premiums, high co-payments, lack of rural health care, escalating costs, workforce shortages, facility closures, health care disparities among populations, and bad health care outcomes for many populations. Yet, the system has great strengths which can be creatively developed as long term solutions.

The focus of this project is to help citizens, health and human services professionals and community leaders to advocate for solutions at the state and federal level.

Get Involved!!

Host a PAFCO workshop/training within your agency or organization.

Attend a PAFCO "train the trainer" workshop to learn how to implement an advocacy program within your agency/organization.

Become an advocate for quality, affordable healthcare by attending a training already scheduled in your area.

See www.pafcoalition.org for details.

To set up your training,
contact:

Michele White
michele@pafcoalition.org
602-373-6989

The Protecting Arizona's Family Coalition (PAFCO) is a non partisan alliance of social services, health, community service agencies, advocacy groups, citizen advocacy, and faith-based associations. Hundreds of social, health, and community services agencies, human services groups, citizen action and advocacy groups, and faith based congregations are represented in the Coalition.